Asker Art Association 2016

I was very young when I got my first oil chalk, and there were especially three colors which fascinated me, the three primary colors yellow, red and blue.

Later as a visual artist when I met with Piet Mondrians works, colors and compositions, I knew that his works would be of inspiration in my art.

I have used the yellow, red, blue, black and white in many of my works, such as in prints, drawings, and as here in the artist-book Memento Mori.

In the white box there is a screen. I have made a video showing how I have worked with Bau-House/pastell, from the white sheet of paper till the finished work. This video is mounted inside the box.
